Volume 63

Dear Friends and Classmates,

It is both the privilege and pleasure of our staff to bring to you the 2009 Retrospect Yearbook. Each member of our team worked determinedly to produce not only a notable book, but one that might truly capture the spirit and essence of these past four years. We can only hope that the enthusiasm it took to create this volume of Whitman-Hanson history is expressed in the work itself, and that it can be enjoyed by all who read it.

It seems a bit daunting, but with the completion of high school comes a larger, more enticing, and more intimidating world. It is our fondest wish that with this yearbook, you take your many memories and ambitions with you to that new life. For a yearbook is more than just picture and paper, word and image; it is a collection of the many individuals and choices that helped define that type of person who you have become.

"I count myself in nothing else so happy, as in a soul remembering my good friends" – William Shakespeare

From Your Editors, Kathleen Collins, '10, 2009 Retrospect Editor-in-Chief and Alexa Canecla, Tess Cibotti, Siobhan Healy, Stephanie Kostas, Annie O'Donnell, Devin Petta, Mike Saeconne, Jesse Sewall, and Mike Stalker

Dear Students and Friends of the Whitman-Hanson Community,

It's early March 2008 and just as the 2008 yearbook is completed, the 2009 editorial staff begins to meet to select the theme and cover design for the 2009 yearbook. After several meetings with students who devoted their time to meet after school and offer input to the editors, we selected the 2009 theme and design, "What Drives You?"

Fast forward to 5:47 p.m. on Tuesday, January 27, 2009, the day before a snowy early release, in the non-cozy warmth of computer lab 231. Those same editors are sitting alongside me working hard to meet a deadline, knowing that no one is going to want stay tomorrow on a half day with the snow falling!! We'll be here most of the evening and into the night. What Drives Me? Those around me. The editors of the 2009 yearbook are some of the best I've had the privilege to work with, and despite the setbacks of a struggling economy affecting the business side of the book, each of them have worked tirelessly to bring you a creative and memorable publication.

Seniors, as you move beyond the comfort and safety of Whitman-Hanson, remember what you learned here, whether it be through a class, an activity or sport, or any special moment that made an impression upon you from your years here. As you move into the greater world, in college, work, military, or even your mom's basement, take the time to continually ask yourself what drives you. Even if you come up with just one answer, your life will be richer for it. My life has been enhanced by my experience at Whitman-Hanson and it has been my pleasure to advise the editorial board and staff of this yearbook. I only hope that as you pursue your passions, you get the chance to follow your bliss.

Good luck in all you do, Mrs. Lisa Shea

Student Who Needs More Driver's Ed
- Travis Renegar

What do you think of student drivers?

"I fear for my life when I'm in the senior parking lot!"
- Steph Hiltz

Best Driver - Gabi Capobianchi

Although the seniors voted on best driver, most students don't actually drive themselves to school. Many students are driven to school by their parents, while others prefer to take the school bus.

Best Car Decoration - Alex Gunn

How much do you spend on your car's appearance?

Over the past year, Whitman-Hanson students have invested money in their cars. While some are reluctant to spend any money at all, others have spent between $600 and $2000 on new accessories for their cars!

To some, the preparations before prom are invigorationg and exciting, while for others they bring only stress. It takes time to orchestrate the perfect hair, nails, date, etc., into a whole, complete package. What cannot be denied, however, is that the excitement of prom is unparalleled. It is what every underclassmen waits for, and what every junior and senior comes to revel in. This year marks the final chapter in the Senior's lives at Whitman-Hanson. Next year they will go on to succeed in their many areas of study and vocation. So live in the moment, and savor this last moment together, this last reminder of a famulous group that have shared four years of trimuphs and losses. Remember the Class of 2009.

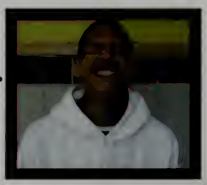
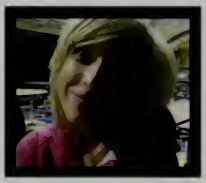
"I don't just want to make it to college, I want to make it through. It's my dream to own my own business, what kind; I have yet to decide. I know for certain I want to fall in love and have a happy family, one of those happy families that everyone admires and everyone wants." -Michelle Lebeau, 12



"I want to work for the Boston Fire Department and I hope to one day be a chief. I love the thought of risking my life for the safety of others; it's the best way I can think of giving back to my community."
-Greg Tavares, 12



"I want to be famous. Like a star; I want to be in movies. I want to see the world, drive a nice car; I want to have groupies! I want to be on TV, be in magazines, so people know me, fresh and clean, number one chick, when I step out on the scene."

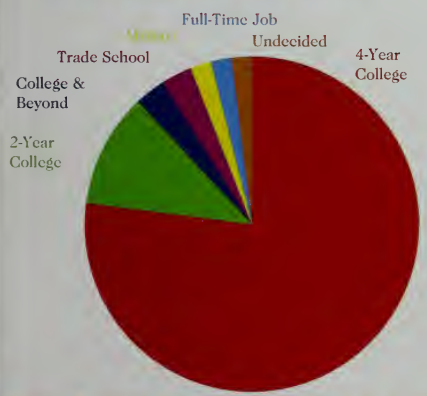
Students represent their dream colleges.



Class poll reveals the diverse directions of the Seniors '08

Where will you be?

Over the past 18 years, dreams have shifted and even completely changed. When we were little we aspired to be teachers and pro-soccer players. Now we've grown and learned new things. The time has come to make that final decision, and ask the question, what will I be?

Q: What are you planning to study in college?

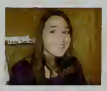
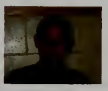
A:

Phillip Barbosa- The school is bigger. There's more classes and alot more freedom.



Rebecca Pellegrine- There are so many extracurricular activities; I love drama and sports!



Michael King- It's more challenging and there's more kids here. The fields outside are bigger and theres more choices for classes.

Brian Chapman- Meeting Amy Sapienza! <3

GARRETT BAKER

The thing I will miss the most about high school is the good times with my friends in choir like the time that I fell during show choir and then the time I dressed up as Santa all day because some one stole my clothes. Shane w Kaplan, Mr. Legge. Mr. Ryan, Mrs. Nawrocki, Mr. Googins, and all of my family.

Whitman-Hanson Regional High School

Class of 2009

Senior Class Ode

Freshman Year:

We entered Whitman Hanson as two congregations
Knowing little of each other but our preceding locations
Unable to ask for help as the school was new
We wandered the halls not knowing what to do.

Our smartboards and toilets made our eyes widen
We knew nothing of Governor Palin, nor Joe Biden
At rally we wore pink, just as we were told
For traditions were to be kept from the school of old.

Seven periods per day was truly the norm,
A schedule that seriously needed reform.
We played dodgeball every Friday with Mr. Mac
And watched with awe as Eric Ashe ran the track.

Unless we were lucky, the bus was our way
In sunshine, snow, or pouring rain.
In Mr. Clifford's class we were labelled squid.
And water bottles in class had to be hid.

Our source of income came from our moms and dads,
And we first saw Geico's cavemen on TV ads.
With year one finished with three more to come,
We kept on marching to the beat of the drum

Sophomore Year:

Returning to school with one year complete
We left behind the summer sweet.
With two less periods and a seminar too
Gone was the schedule we previously knew

Billy Taft's weather reports were quite a sight,
And we gathered for rally dressed in white
Freshman wore pink despite several requests
For gray was a color impossible to digest.

We first met Mr. Wolan, a student like us,
And we prepared for our chances to ditch the bus.
MCAS was stressed for one final year,
And Señorita Cronin began to see dear.

The boys' track team finally made the news,
And despite their setback, they still didn't lose.
Semi was in the cafeteria once again,
As we danced the night away with all the freshmen.

Halfway through, we thought we knew it all,
But we had a new principal arriving next fall.
We bid Ms. Gould a fond farewell,
And Round 2 ended with a ring of the bell.

Junior Year:

By Billy Gorman

As junior year arrived, things began to change.
College prep and SATs ate at our brains.
Belt loops and purses with hanging IDs
Were now the norm, as asked by Mr. Lee.

Rally day came and we aligned in red,
Though Powderpuff was fixed, as every junior said.
A gas leak kept us in the gym all day,
But Andrews, Legge, and Scully kept the boredom at bay.

Getting out of the bus was very nice
Though the path to the school was often laced with ice.
In March we were sent into an all-day lockdown,
And with a day of school wasted we gave sarcastic frowns.

Cross-country won EMass and girls' soccer came close,
As we bid the ACL farewell with more league banners to host.
Some of us had the trip of a lifetime in Greece
And were saddened to see our vacation cease

Prom was amazing, to say the least,
With two giant video screens and a delicious feast.
As the year finally trickled down to a close,
The next year's importance chilled us from our heads to our toes.

Senior Year

Senior year came and the anticipation swelled.
On our minds, college applications dwelled.
We took the SATs for one final time,
And wrote college essays until they were sublime...

...We texted our friends, no longer in fear,
For cell phones were allowed in lunch this year.
Water bottles were permitted, even in class,
And new highs were reached for the price of gas...

...Dempsey and Cronin were officially one,
And several sports made tournament runs.
Though the football team could have faired better,
Girls' soccer dominated again thanks to Devin Petta...

...The seniors went to Salem after reading Hawthorne,
As second lunch laced the cafeteria with milk and corn.
Some of us voted in the presidential election,
And we polished our applications, striving for perfection...

...As the path we've followed for the past four years
Comes to a close, amid some tears.
We hope we accomplished what we set to do,
And prepare to set forth on a path brand new...

...Soon we will step down the stage, diploma in hand,
And enter a world we don't quite understand.
Through triumph and tragedy, we've continued to shine.
Just follow your heart, and you'll be fine,
Because you're a member of the class of '09...

Remember When ...

Remember when we didn't have to wear IDs?

Remember when Venus was half-price EVERY night?

Remember when Cody Needles dressed up as Dorothy?

Remember when we were the ones in pink?

Remember when Joe Rich flushed his cell phone down the toilet?

Remember when Egan lost to Sully at XC all-states?

Remember when we should have kept the seniors in powderpuff?

Remember when there was a bomb threat and we were stuck in first period for hours?

Remember when Mr. Moriarty and Mr. Rozen didn't beat up their students? Because I don't.

Remember when Egan had parted hair?

Remember the chemical spill?

Remember when freshmen were supposed to wear grey?

Remember when Matt Pladsen flattened Brian Tuohey's car?

Remember when Senorita Cronin was ACTUALLY Senorita Cronin?

Remember WELCOME TO SEMINAAAAHHHH?

Remember when Anthony Lambiase bleached his hair?

Remember the stolen speed bumps in the senior parking lot?

Remember when there was a fire on rally day?

Remember when Steph Kostas fell in the swamp?

Remember when gym didn't count and everyone got an A?

Remember politically, socially, and economically?

Remember when lunch was only $2.00?

Remember when we could be exempt?

Remember Ms. Frank?

Remember when everyone worked it, got it, and strutted it?

Remember when everyone was into paddle-tennis?

Remember Legends of the Hidden Temple?

Remember when Mr. Botehlo was a ninja? Oh wait, he still is!

Remember when Doug was locked in a locker for 3 hours?

Remember when we couldn't have water in the classrooms?

REMEMBER GREECE?

Remember when Goodwin cheated in Fantasy Football and got kicked out of the league?

Remember when Brett Loycano lost to Mrs. Lopes in the Panther Prowl?

Remember when we got stuck on a bus, in Providence, in a blizzard?

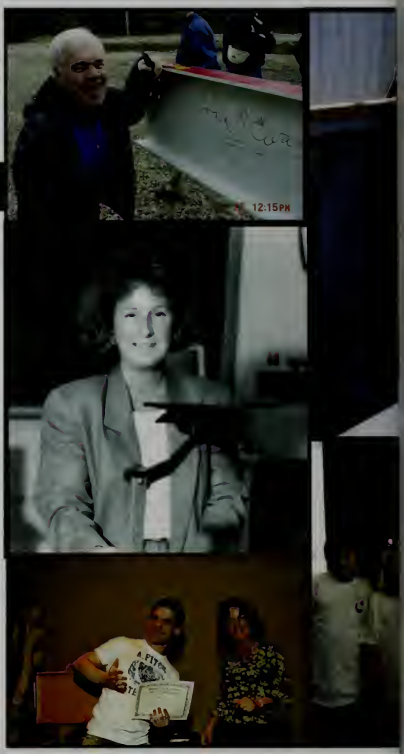
Fond Farewells

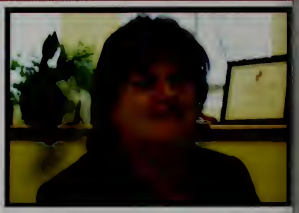


This year, WH loses two timeless mentors. Both the Superintendant, Dr. John McEwan, and the CSL Coordinator, Mrs. Georgia Clancy, are retiring after making many memories and forming lasting impressions on the school. Their influences on both staff and student have been profound, and they have become key figures in the workings of Whitman-Hanson. As evident from the sentiments quoted below, these two educators were not merely successful and effective, but loved. They have positively contributed to so much growth here at Whitman-Hanson, that we owe them our best wishes and hopes as they embark on the next chapters of their lives.

Mrs. Ruth Whitner Mr. David Floek Mrs. Ruth Carrigan

"It has been an honor and a privilege to have had the opportunity to work with Dr. John McEwan. He is a dedicated professional who has always cared deeply for students and staff. Dr. McEwan is an outstanding educator whose wonderful work in the Whitman-Hanson Regional School District benefits students and staff today and will continue to benefit them in the future."

"Dr. McEwan's vision and leadership has made the Whitman Hanson Regional School District a leader in 21st century education. Dr. McEwan is a true educational leader and our students and staff have benefited tremendously from his work. He has been a great mentor to me and I will miss his guidance and wisdom."

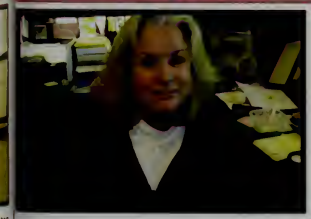


"Working with Dr. McEwan over the past ten years at both Silver Lake and Whitman-Hanson has been an honor and a privilege for me. He is an inspiring leader, a wonderful mentor, and a man who cares deeply for students and staff. He strives for excellence in all he does, and he is truly one of the finest people I know."

Having lived in Hanson or Whitman for the past 37 years, the highlight of my professional career has been to serve as the district's Superintendent for the past eight years. Working with the communities to build a new high school is the most visible sign of my pride regarding the district. However, it has been the joy of making Whitman-Hanson one of the most respected school districts on the South Shore that will make me smile with pride for many years to come. I want to thank all the community members, the school committee members, the parents, teachers, support staff and, especially, the students, for all they have done to make Whitman-Hanson the special place that it is! -Dr. John McEwan

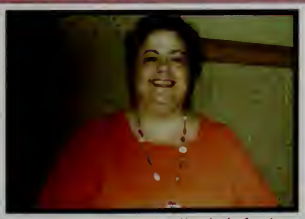
Nothing is more important than finding meaning in our lives and that the surest path to a meaningful life is service. Thank you Whitman-Hanson students and colleagues for working on community service learning projects--what you are doing is inspiring and meaningful. I hope all of you will experience the strength of the human spirit as you continue to be concerned, engaged, active citizens. Best wishes. -Mrs. Georgia Clancy

Ms. Sheryl Wade



"I am honored to have worked with Georgia Clancy the past several years; her dedication to the students of Whitman-Hanson Regional High School and the local community is tireless and amazing. Her efforts have established programs that will benefit others long into the future. and I am sure her students will take her incredible beliefs and examples of community service with them and make their own communities better! Her work will carry on long after she retires!"

Mrs. Lydia Nelson



"Each year Mrs. Clancy has placed hundreds of students in internships. Students may never fully appreciate the extra time required to make this program such a success. I have appreciated Mrs. Clancy's leadership in securing the community service learning grants. Habitat for Humanity, anti-violence week, flowers for victims, holiday collection for the women's shelters and Brockton Hospital, "Don't Laugh at Me," and the list goes on! There have been so many opportunities for me to give my students a sense of the wider world by participating in quality community service learning. These heels will be very hard to fill. We will all miss you."

Mrs. Nina Consolini

"As a new teacher, I could not have asked for a better mentor than Mrs. Clancy. I was able to learn from the best. Her dedication to her students continues to inspire me every day. Seeing the time and care she takes in working with each student has shown me what teaching is all about."

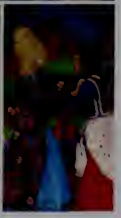
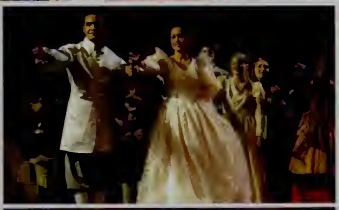
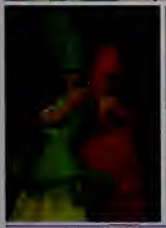
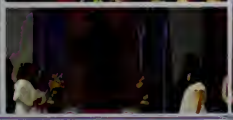
Cinderella

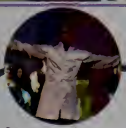
The first Theatre production at Whitman-Hanson did not dissapoint audiences with three nearly sold out performances. The time-old tale, Cinderella, appeared in a slightly quirkier fasbion than the Disney virsion so many are familiar with, but was masterfully done and recieved well by all. The set was gorgeous, with lots of color and fun, and the cast was clearly enjoying themselves as they danced and twirled through each act. The enormous cast of nearly eighty members filled the stage and showed the value that Whitman-Hanson puts on its Theatre Arts. District wide, it set the stage, no pun intended, for the spring show that will surely be just as great a success.











Darren Bunch • 11
"The large group numbers were really fun. It's good to see everyone on stage having fun."

Susanah Thornton • 12
"Seeing how the production progressed from practice to that opening night was really spectacular. Everyone worked so hard to deliver a winning performance."

Anna Hatcher • 11
"I was nervous since I am new here and I had a big part, but everyone was really welcoming. I adjusted easily."

Heather Marshman • 11
"The cast this year was so large, and I think that made all the difference. With more people, all the more heart went into the production!"

Jackie Irving • 11
"It was a great experience; the show really came together in the end."

Though the crowd at Steel Magnolias was not as large as the musicals, the play was no less impressive than its Fall and Spring counterparts. With the audience seated directly on -stage, the experience was personal and touching. Each part was performed beautifully, and although the cast was made up of only six members, the emotions were real and the energy was up. With serious themes of loss, love, and friendship, the girls impressed their viewers with their handling of the difficult subject matter. The set looked fabulous, and the lighting and sound effects flowed well in the performance. The delivery was exquisite and only left the audience wanting more.

"I'd rather have a few minutes of wonderful, than a lifetime of nothing special."

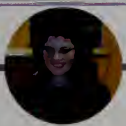
Jackie Irving Grade 11
"It was definitely a challenge, the hardest I've ever had to do. But it turned out well and was a lot of fun."

Victoria Dowd Grade 12
"It's a great show, very funny, and very moving. I couldn't be happier with the way it turned out. It will always be a favorite memory of my senior year."



Abra White Grade 10
"The cast and crew were great, it was a great experience."

Shawn Hickey Grade 11
"It challenged us to push our acting potential, we all grew as performers."

Anna Hatcher Grade 11
"It was a great experience and I thought the casting really worked out. It was a great show."

Kathleen Coltas Grade 11
"We had such different characters, from high class lady to overprotective mother to convicts wife, that everyone really got to stand out with own eccentricities."

This year at Whitman-Hanson High school, history was made in boys soccer. After having a very successful regular season with a record of 12-4-2, the boys made it to tournament with ease. The real history was made, though, when the boys won their first tournament game; going further than any boys varsity soccer team ever before. Though they fell short of their goals, they left their mark in the history books.

"WE CAME, WE SAW, WE CONQUERED. I was excited that my senior year, we left a record that won't be broken."

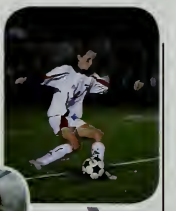
The Girls Varsity Soccer season was successful yet again this year. After going 18-0 last season, they almost had another undefeated record with 17-1. Devin Petta, a senior varsity player for the Lady Panthers, said that the best part of her season was when she scored her 100th goal. She also said that she is proud to be a player on this amazing winng team, Although the team didn't go as far as they would have liked in tournament play, they once again set the bar for years to come.



"We've had an extremely succesful four years at W-H and I've loved every second of it."

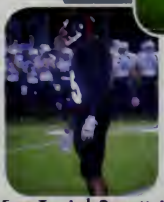
Football



Surely statistics don't matter when describing this last Varsity Football season. While the boys did not yield many wins, there was more heart in this year's group than Whitman-Hanson has ever seen. The pride they had for their team, and for each other could be seen clearly in each of the player's faces. Victory is one way to measure success, but it is not the most accurate. The perseverance displayed by this year's team says volumes about their strength of character.

Another great season for WH Girls Varsity Cheerleading! Keeping with their habitual success, the girls won the Braintree invitational, the league championship, the regional title, and wrapped up their season with yet another State Championship! With such rewarding results, it is expected that the team members all put in much preparation and practice in between victories. Surely the effort has paid off, becuase Whitman-Hanson has come to expect great things from its squad. Good luck girls, keep it up!

Golf

This season proved to be a big breakthrough for the Panther Golf Team. After a couple of seasons with a talented team but a losing season, making the tournament this year was a great turn-around. Finishing the regular season at 9-8, the team went to the state tournament, and although they only went one round, the team felt like they had achieved a major accomplishment.

This season was unquestionably the best the lady panthers have seen in many years. Their new coach, Stephanie Adams, lead the team to their first appearance in the state championships since 2002. While the change in seasons yeilds the loss of many beloved players, their teammates continuing the legacy next year is nothing but promising. Whitman-Hanson can only expect to see this team continue to improve in years to come. Make us proud girls!

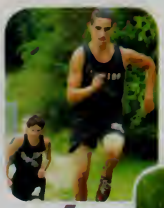
Hit the Pavement



The W-H Boys' Cross Country Team raced through the Patriot League to end the season as undefeated Patriot League Champions (10 - 0) in our inaugural season in the league. It was great to return to compete in a league against our geographic neighbors and old time rivals.

Tyler Sullivan - only a sophomore - won the individual title for the Patriot League and was 6th overall in the State. Sullivan and Taft were Boston Globe and Boston Herald All Scholastics. Egan joined them in making the Enterprise and Ledger All Scholastic Teams. For new members to XCountry, the season was a good introduction to the sport.

The girls enjoyed a great first season in the Patriot League, as they went 10-0 and won the Patriot League Title. The girls were led by Emily Regan, Kelci Sullivan, Caitlin Ryan, and Kaley Mientkiewicz. Those 4 runners dominated the Patriot League, and it was the first time in school history that we have had 4 girls break 20 minutes in the 5k, as they all achieved this on their own course. This year's team MVP, was Emily Regan, as she was the number 1 runner for every important race of the year. Team captains were Devon Casey, Yvonne Fall, Kelci Sullivan, Caitlin Ryan, and Emily Regan.

Boy's hockey this year has certainly grown in potential and popularity. With a group of die hard fans, the boy's efforts this season brought them to the first round of their tournament games, something that hasn't happened since 2006! The team's enthusiasm was evident though their unrelenting progress, and the success of their journey the past few months was undeniable. We expect great things from them in the future.

Girls hockey, one of the newer sports to join the ranks of WH athletics, is living up to the expectations of their fans here at WH. Only losing two games during their regular season, they continued their success at the NYAA hockey tournament. They may be a young sport but they have certainly made their mark here at WH and are here to stay and succeed! Certainly there is no one that can deny that their hard work and perseverance have readily paid off.

Despite having an extremely young and inexperienced squad this year, the Boys' Winter Track Team managed to put together yet again another strong team. Practicing almost every day in the frigid winter, the boys had an incredibly successful season, splitting the Patriot League title with Hingham. All Others Will Be Pinned

This season was far more successful than years in the past because the team really came together as a unit. If you look at the wrestling team, you can see that they all have one thing in common: heart. With hard work, dedication, and discipline, the team would push 110% and then keep pushing harder. Some teammates really stepped up and played an important role in the teams success. This included the seven members who made it to states. Overall, it was a great year with an ending record of 10-3-0.

From Top: Synjen Marrocco, Tim Condon, and Ryan Stephansky.

Special Olympics

The Whitman-Hanson Special Olympics team did spectacularly at their annual games after a grand send-off from their peers here at WH. They traveled to Worcester and participated in the games and recreation at the Auburn high school overnight event. After enjoying a dance and band for all players and participants, the athletes came in fifth, and achieved all they had set out to do.

Colophon

The 2009 Whitman-Hanson Regional High School yearbook, Retrospect, was created using Adobe InDesign CS2 on 28 Dell PCs. The book is printed by Jostens Publishing, under the representation of Tara Anderson. Students in Yearbook Journalism class, as well as after school Yearbook Club worked on the pages.

The official yearbook photographer for 2008-2009 is Prestige Portraits by Lifetouch. Thank you to Ms. Sue Moss, retired teacher, who contributed greatly to the photographs of the publication, and student photographers Patrick Concannon and Chris Newsome, who also contributed to the book. Students who worked in yearbook class also took pictures using Canon digital cameras.

The 2009 yearbook is a 208-page, full color publication, and 400 copies of the yearbook have been printed. Yearbook inquiries may be directed to the WH Publications office, 781-618-7450, 600 Franklin Street, WHitman, MA 02382. No part of this book may not be duplicated without the express written consent of the yearbook advisor and editors. The 2009 adviser is Mrs. Lisa Shea, English Department.
